Goal for the Phase

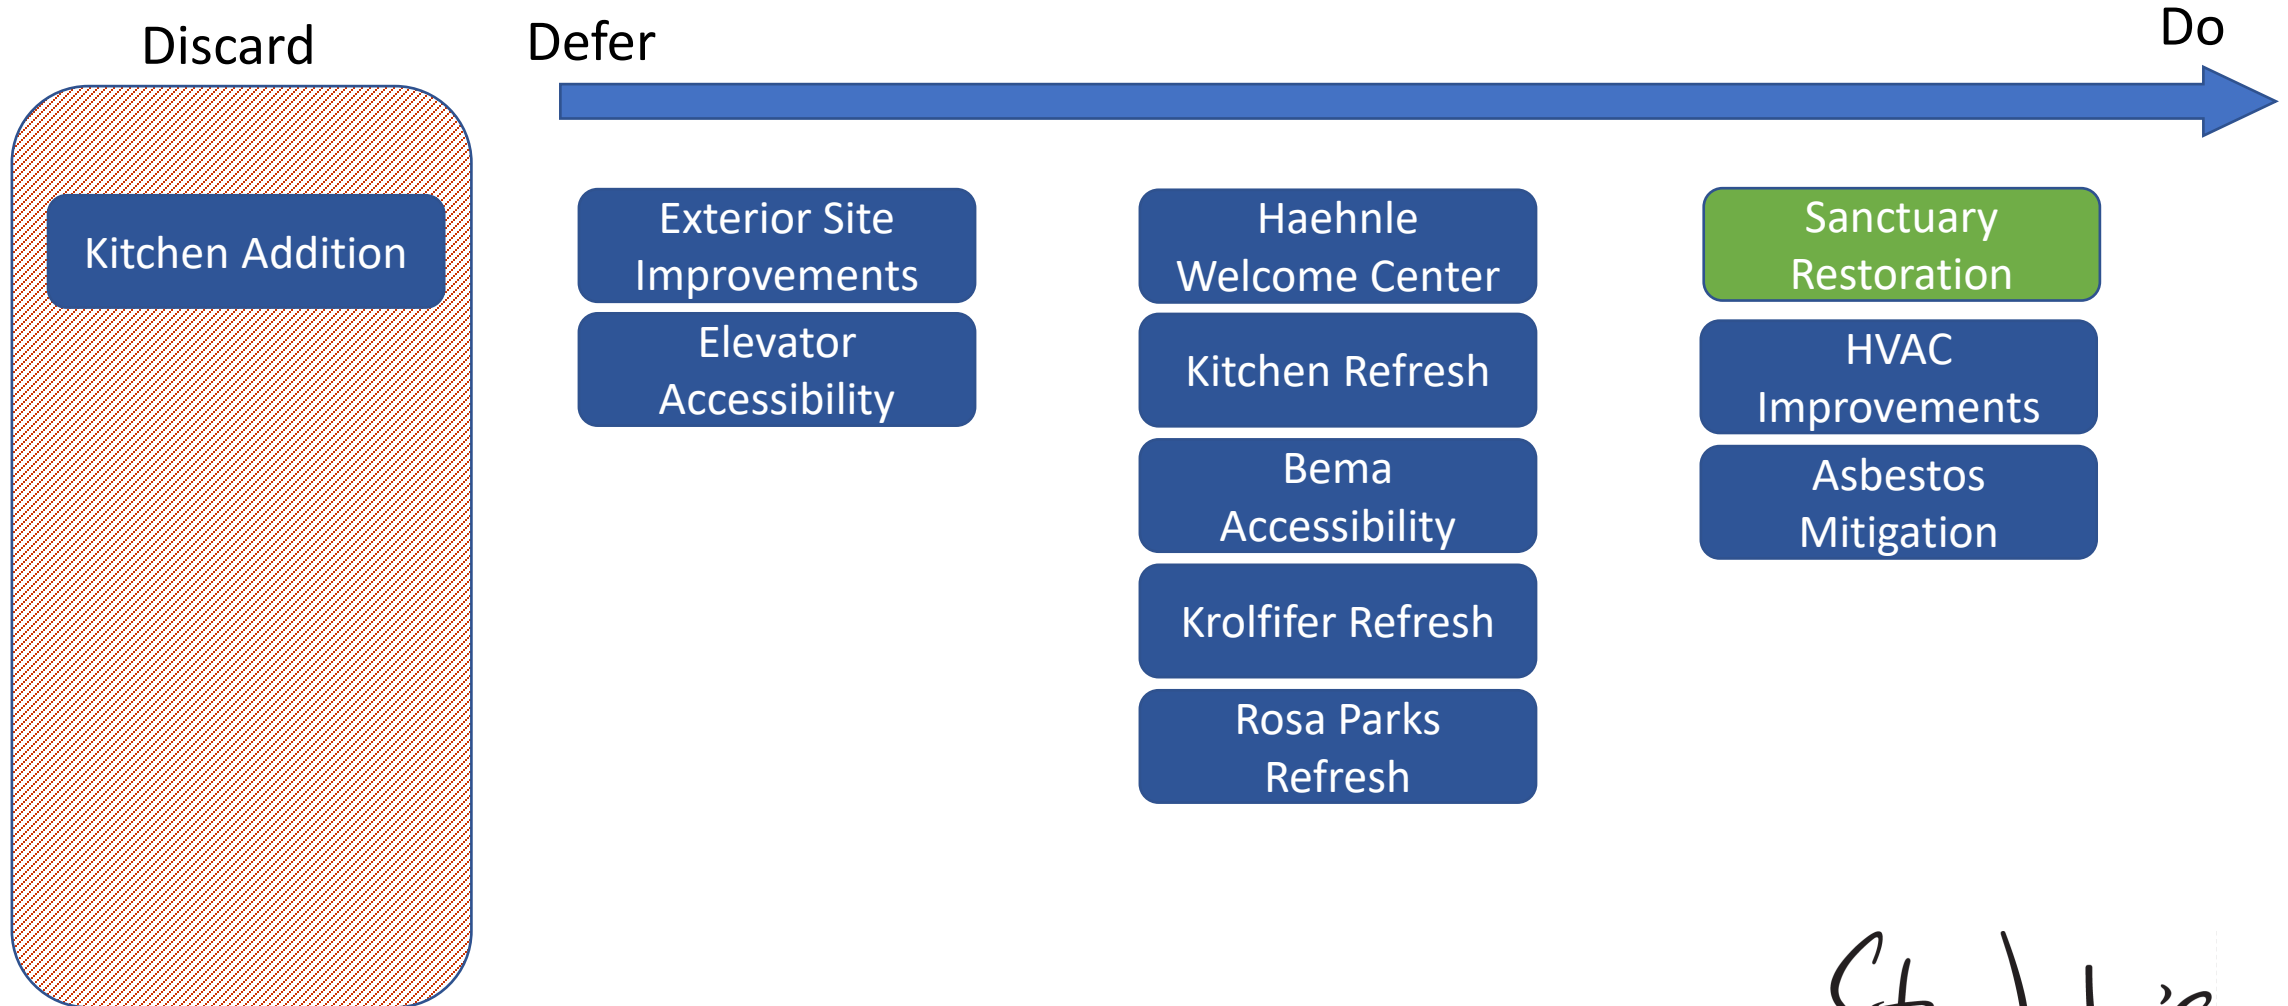

These options and drawings may still lack details or need to be further refined. But from what we have today – we want your feedback about:

- What options may intrigue us, but we don't think we would pursue in the next 10-20 years?
- What work excites us and we might want to do in 5-10 years, but we aren't ready to do yet?
- What is the work that we would like to do immediately?

Gathering your feedback on these options begins with today's session and will continue for several weeks. This will help us guide which options we want to spend our time exploring as a committee and congregation.
